750 Motor Club Formula Vee Championship

The Formula Vee Championship has been run by the 750 Motor Club since 1980 and is probably the cheapest way to go single seater racing in the UK. Engine, gearbox and much of the suspension and braking system is from the VW 1300 Beetle and this, along with a Dunlop 'control' tyre puts the emphasis on driver ability to win races.

Demon Tweaks/Yokohama Stock Hatch Championship

The Stock Hatch Championship, is in its 10th year & continues to be the most popular championship in the UK. Modifications are strictly limited to basic rebore and blueprinting along with the use of standard gearbox; ignition systems are 'free'; suspension mods are limited to lowering and uprating of springs and dampers; brakes remain standard with free pad materials; a 'control' Yokohama A539 tyre and a weight penalty for leading cars ensures close racing at very affordable cost.

Formel Vau Cup Deutschland

There are two classes - one for the German spec cars, which run with VW Polo water-cooled engines and with slick tyres and wings; the other class is for UK spec cars with 1300cc air-cooled engines, slicks on their narrow 15" rims, but no wings.

Their race is being sponsored today by RSS.

Irish Formula Vee Championship

The Irish Formula Vee Championship runs in 3 classes - Open, non-winners and Novices. Engines are air-cooled 1600cc 'Beetle', with power controlled by a standard cam. Wheels are 13" with control tyres. The Irish VEE's are delighted to be here at Brands Hatch this weekend for the 40th anniversary celebrations, and we congratulate the VEE Centre and the 750MC on this occasion. We know the hard work that goes into organising an event like this.

Formula Sheane Championship

Formula Sheane is the brainchild of David Sheane, who brought Formula Vee to Ireland nearly thirty years ago. David's aim for Formula Sheane was an affordable one-make class where every driver has equal machinery. The Formula Sheanes are a single-seat spaceframe chassis, powered 1800cc Rover 'K' series engines mated to VAG 5-speed gearboxes. Formula Sheane is now the fastest single-seat class in Ireland.

Dunlop SP Tyres UK Ltd have been supporting Formula Vee and supplying the control tyres specific to the Formula for over 25 years. These are now supplied for Australian Vees (Formula First) and US Vintage Vees. Also, interestingly some 750 Motor Club Austin Seven Triple Challenge cars use them. This weekend the company have donated sets of the tyres to the drivers as prizes.

750MC Volkswagen Golf GTi Mk2 Series

In August last year a group of VW Golf enthusiasts (Adam Stevenson, John Hillon, Andy Walker and Phil Bowler) started talking to the 750 Motor Club about running a series of races for the VW Golf GTi Mk2. Skeleton regulations were drafted and amended several times along the way, but the result is obvious here today that the series has great potential. The supply of cars and spares is plentiful, as a standard vehicle it has good handling & performance, it is relatively 'bullet-proof', so it is an ideal car for a low cost one make series. All cars run on Toyo tyres, have a Newman control camshaft in otherwise standard engines and have minimum weights for the two classes (8v & 16v).

40 Years of Formula Vee

In Florida in 1959 VW dealer and motorsport enthusiast Hubert Brundage was racing VW based specials amongst other sports racing cars. Although these were unsuccessful he still believed it was possible to be competitive using VW parts so that the average man-in-the-street could maintain and afford it. He commissioned race car builder Enrico Nardi to produce a Beetle-based single-seater. It wasn't competitive against the European F3s of the time so he sold the two he had to SCCA Official George Smith and garage owner Bill Duckworth who, drawing from experience from star-class yachting first thought of a class especially for Beetle-based formula racing cars (Formcar for short) and set up their production. The Formula Vee series was started by the SCCA in 1963. At this point Porsche AG got interested and Motorsport boss Huschke von Hanstein ordered 10 Formcars and Beach Vees for hillclimbs and racing. Some well-known European drivers started their careers in Vau, eg. Jochen Mass, Dieter Quester, Gerhard Mitter, Marc Surer and Jean-Pierre Beltoise.

The UK launched a 12 round Formula Vee championship organised by the BARC which preceded John Webb's Formula Ford series in 1967 by two weeks! At the time most were Beachs and there was such a thing as a works VW (Express) team. The first race at Silverstone was won by Jenny Nadin although well-known journalist and, later Marathon/Desert Raid promoter Nick Brittan led for all but the last lap till he spun. Nick went on to win the championship and represented UK in the Monaco Grand Prix support race that year although he didn't get further than the first corner. The UK series was managed by The Formula Vee Association under the wing of VW GB Ltd. introducing series sponsors like the VW camper conversion manufacturers Danbury. The regulations followed the European rulebook, the cars running engines up to 1300cc but chassis manufacturers were few, mostly from Europe eg. Apal, Austro, Celi & Kaimann but some UK companies did offer cars including Wooler, Landar (nee Smithfield, the Birmingham VW Dealer) and CG. With loyal supporter Jan Bannochie arranging the races and Vee enthusiast Ian Bunker producing the newsletter, Vee Sport News (predecessor of Vee Views) the series ticked on.

Internationally, like today in the UK, Formula Vee flourished as the starting racing car formula. No less than five Formula One World Champions cut their teeth in the series: Jochen Rindt, Emerson Fittipaldi, Niki Lauda, Nelson Piquet and Keke Rosberg. In the UK Brian "Yogi" Muir, Gerry Birrell, Brian Henton and Ian Flux are probably best known, Gerry winning a Scottish Vee championship.

However VW turned to promoting the newer water-cooled cars such as the Golf and Scirocco rather than the Beetle and Formula Ford became the route to motor racing stardom. As a result Formula Vee grids dwindled in the mid 1970s to no more than about half a dozen with races held mostly at Lydden Hill. Stalwart clubs like TEAC and SUNBAC kept things going along with Howard Strawford's BRSCC Castle Combe Easter Monday meeting a regular season opener. Nevertheless Vee expertise fell away and the formula gained a reputation having only few entries of stow, oil-spilling unreliable ugly racing cars. VW themselves ceased its support and the formula was demoted effectively to club racing.

At the time, Vee racing and support was dominated by one man, London Irishman Tim Flynn who negotiated with the 750 Motor Club in 1979 for it to be taken under its wing. Membership secretary Dave Bradley saw it as an entry-level single-seater low-cost club racing series dovetailing in perfectly with their other formulae: Formula 750, Formula 1300 and Formula 4. To level the playing field the regulations mandated the standard gearbox ratios, a standard air restrictor and established a contract with Dunlop to supply control tyres for the formula (now lasting for 28 years!).

Shortly afterwards, engine guru Stuart Rolt designed and built the Scarab 2, a steel monocoque design and, most significantly offered it as a kit, latterly by Andy Storer (RSS). This re-packaged formula brought the class to the attention of lots of potential club racers. For once in a long time they could actually buy a complete new Vee. A 15 round national championship was formed and sponsored in turn by several aftermarket Beetle suppliers including Autocavan and Volkspares. The series blossomed, often with the need for a qualifying race each round.

Vee had been strong in South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and the US now known as Formula first - and regulations have localised to each country. The Germans now use the Polo engine, sticks and wings but the Irish use the standard Beetle 1600 engine and Formula Ford wheels & tyres. There is now an historic Vee class of racing based in Holland.

Back home in the 1990s new chassis came on the scene as conversions from the US cars eg. Spyder (nee Citation) and Predator followed by customer cars from Ireland (Sheane and Leastone) and eventually GAC, AHS (Challenger) and Storm joined RSS producing home grown cars. Also the series acquired several recognised engine builders who could produce quick reliable engines RSS (Andy Storer) GAC, AHS, John Bowles and Mac Daghorn.

The Vee package was now strong enough to support the concept of racehire which Andy Storer pioneered but which really took off in the 1990s with 4 or 5 teams now running this type of operation and novices were targeted for this route, particularly at the Racing Car Show. At this time the Formula Vee Centre was formed to harness the desire for a social club for drivers and their families. The Exhibition stand, BBQs, End of Season Awards and test days are all arranged through this club-within-a-club. Similarly during this period certain intrepid UK drivers started competing successfully abroad in German Formel Vau and Historic Series in Europe. In fact Englishmen have won the German championship on several occasions, often in UK-built cars.

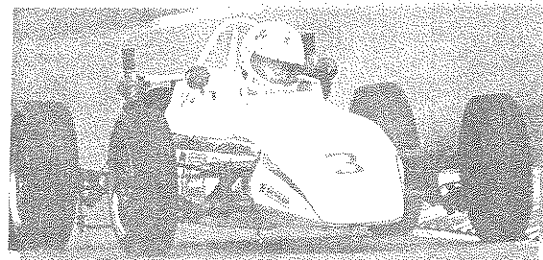

At the turn of the century Formula Vee does not look to wane as many as 54 cars entered a recent Donington championship round - and the average driver age is getting lower. Vee marketing started to target young ex-kartists and in 2007 they are now starting to dominate the front of the grid. Maybe UK Formula Vee, as well as still appealing to amateur enthusiasts of all ages is now not too far away from being a possible step on the way to stardom in Formula 1 as it heads off into the distance for the next 40 years...
